News update from Alex Jones

Nearly 3 weeks in already! Its going well - well, from my perspective at least. Its been a stressful time for the family, illnesses throughout the house, Jonathan (2) had a fever induced seizure the other day we've been struggling to keep his temperature down. I've been doing mostly work around the ranch/house and helping with the home schooling a lot. I've gone to the church quite a few times to prophetic evenings and prayer nights etc which have been good. Been working a bit with Joel Erb (Josh's twin brother, from Soul Edge, who lives here), I really like him, get on with him. We just brought a month old calf today that we have to bottle feed, and buying another Day old one next week possibly!
Thanks for your prayers.
